HOWARD R. CAVITT

CONGRESS AT AN END.

Fifty-Ninth Session of National Legislature Closes.

SHIP SUBSIDY HELD BACK

Senator Gallinger, in Charge of the Measure, Announced That Its Further Passage Would Not Be Pressed by Those Favorable.

Washington, March 4.—The final session of the Fifty-ninth congress has expired by limitation. The senate adjourned sine die at noon. The house did not adjourn until 12:20 o'clock, owing to some error in the Lafolette bill regulating hours of service of trainmen. The president left the white house at 10:50 a. m. for the capitol, arriving there about 11 o'clock. The first measure he signed was the Aldrich currency bill and next one authorizing an immigrant station at Charleston, S. C.

The ship subsidy bill, which has been before congress in a more or less prominent way for the past two years and for the past few days in a more active form, finally received its quietus in the senate. Senator Gallinger, in charge of the measure, arose and finally announced his decision not to press it for further consideration. Before, however, he came to this announcement he entered into a furious, though brief, argument in support of the bill. Two days of frivolous debate, he said, had occurred on the measure, and he felt it to be his duty to call attention to the salient points involved in connection with the subject.

Both houses of congress met at the unusually early hour of 9:30 o'clock for the last sitting of the session. The attendance was slim both in the senate and house, and those present showed unmistakable signs of fatigue, due to the almost constant meetings since last Saturday morning. Both Vice President Fairbanks and Speaker Cannon were among the most prompt in arriving and each called to order the body over which he presided. The house proceeded with business as if the entire session were still before it, but the senate, finding itself without a quorum, and with all absolutely necessary routine business disposed of, took a recess for a few minutes after assembling, and it was at once made evident that there would no further serious effort to secure action on the ship subsidy bill, or, for that matter, on any of the disputed measures.

Senator Carmack was in his seat when the session began and his desk was piled high with a formidable array of documents, just as it had been all day Sunday, showing his preparedness to continue his fight against the consideration of the ship subsidy bill. He openly declared his purpose of speaking until 12 o'clock, if necessary, but the motion for a recess was evidently welcome news to him and a slight sigh of relief escaped his lips as he took his seat.

Early as was the meeting, the first of the senators and members of the house to arrive found they had been preceded by a great many sightseers, and when the houses were called to order there had already assembled in the galleries an audience which would have been an inspiration to oratory on almost any other occasion. As usual, ladies predominated. The crowds continued to arrive until soon they were overflowing the galleries into the corridors, and the session had not progressed far when the passageways became thronged. There was an air of relief on the part not only of senators and representatives, but the clerical forces of the two houses over the fact that all appropriation bills had received their finishing touches Sunday night. This was an exceptional accomplishment. Only the important measure aside from the ship subsidy bill, which "in the air," as it were, was the Lafolette railroad employee bill.

The senate agreed to the conference report on the bill limiting the hours of service of railroad employees as agreed upon by conferees Sunday night. The house agreed to the conference report and in both houses it was adopted by a unanimous vote. The agreement limits daily service of railway telegraphers to nine hours, with the proviso requirement that it may be extended in any particular case when a proper showing is made to the interstate commerce commission.

Frank Houston, a negro boy, had his skull fractured at Florence, Ala., by a rock thrown by Annie Powers, a white girl, and died. The girl was jailed.

The London Weekly Dispatch says the Duchess of Marlborough will convert Blenheim palace into a rescue home and devote her life to religious work.

The date of execution of Felix Powell, convicted of the murder of the Condit family, near Edna, Tex., has been set for April 2 at Victoria, where the negro was tried.

At Houston a negro named Arthur Hamilton, wanted to answer charge of theft of $1,000 worth of brass, while being pursued by officers, jumped into Buffalo bayou and drowned.

Grand lodge of Texas Knights of Pythias will hold its annual meeting at Dallas April 23, 24 and 25. The cornerstone of the widows and orphans' home at Weatherford will be laid April 22.

The plan of the girl's father that the law be permitted to take its course was all that prevented a mob at Mount Sterling, Ky., from lynching Phil Botts, a negro, charged with a tempting to criminally assault the lit daughter of insurance Commissioner. Frank.

AT OWN EXPENSE.

House Votes That Legislators Pay For Photographs Hereafter.

Austin, March 4.—A resolution by Representative Hamilton was adopted in the house providing that photographs of members of the legislature shall be at their individual expense. Heretofore this expense has been borne by the state.

The house passed to engrossment the house juvenile court bill. The house considered a companion bill, known as the incorrigible child bill, which seeks to fix the punishment for juvenile offenders when the offense is above a misdemeanor.

The senate considered Senator Veal's bill providing for a removal of the Santa Fe railroad track from Washburn to Panhandle and to reconstruct the tracks from Panhandle to Amarillo. The bill came up with favorable majority and adverse minority reports. After considerable debate the majority report was adopted by a vote of 16 to 6.

The senate refused to concur in the house amendments to Senator Terrell's bill prohibiting insurance companies from removing causes of action from state to Federal courts. A conference committee, consisting of Terrell, Smith, Veal and Chambers, was appointed on the part of the senate.

The senate concurred in the house amendments to Senator Looney's bill giving more authority to the attorney general in taking evidence in anti-trust suits and authorizing the attorney general to examine papers of public service corporations.

RESULT OF DECISION.

Intangible Asset Law Will Add Considerable to Tax Rolls.

Austin, March 4.—State Tax Commissioner Davis says that as a result of the sustaining of the intangible asset law by the supreme court it will place approximately $100,000,000 of intangible assets of corporations subject to the law on the tax rolls of 1907. After equalization the increase in the taxes will be about $20,000,000.

SAM SYKES' DEATH.

Police Officers of Houston Trying to Ascertain How It Occurred.

Houston, March 4.—To ferret out a murder or suicide police officers are now working upon the case of the death of a man believed to have been Sam Sykes, whose dead body was found lying in a ditch at the corner of German and Paige streets. Death had ensued several hours before. Investigation revealed a gaping bullet wound in the right temple and beside the body lay a 38-calibre revolver with two chambers empty. In his pocket was a certificate as a stationary engineer issued by the city of Chicago. The dead man was unknown here. There were no powder burns upon the face.

There have been no developments in the assault attempted upon Miss May Pullen, a young white girl of Houston Heights, Saturday night. A negro was arrested by officers, but upon being taken before Miss Pullen she was unable to identify the suspect and he was released. Miss Pullen was attacked by a negro on her way home and twice knocked down. Her screams brought help and her assailant escaped.

AGED INDIAN DEAD.

Said to Have Been One Hundred and Twenty-Five Years Old.

Lawton, Okla., March 4.—Death has overtaken the oldest known Indian—Canutsky. Just how old he was no one seems to know, but it is claimed he was more than 125 years old. His death occurred four and a half miles east of Binger, where he had long made his home.

Amid the great Indian ceremonies Canutsky was buried. Fires were kept burning at his head and feet, and the Indians from many miles around had prepared a dance and feast over the remains of their oldest member.

Furlong Electrocuted.

Ossining, N. Y., March 4.—Frank Furlong, who killed his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Keeler at New York city in 1904, was put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. Furlong was twenty-one years of age—a year older than George Granger, who was electrocuted Monday last.

Name Changed.

Guthrie, March 4.—The Pauls Valley Railroad company, which was chartered in September, 1905, to build 180 miles from Ada, I. T., at an estimated cost of $5,000,000, filed notice with Charles H. Filson, territorial secretary, of its change in name to the Seaboard Northern railroad. The capital stock is $5,000,000.

Negro's Bloody Deeds.

Fayetteville, N. C., March 4.—Tow Walker, a negro, killed Policeman Lockamy, fatally wounded Chief of Police Chason, and probably mortally wounded another policeman. Walker was arrested and sent to Raleigh for safe keeping.

Railroader Killed.

Ada, I. T., March 4.—At Aholoso, seven miles from Ada, W. H. Warren was killed. Deceased was foreman on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway. An arrest has been made.

Expires In Agony.

Amarillo, Tex., March 4.—The clothing of Gladys Roberts, four years old, caught fire from burning grass and she expired several hours afterwards in terrible agony.

WHERE IS BUSTER BROWN?

WATCH THIS SPACE EACH WEEK YOU WILL SEE. HE WILL TELL YOU SOMETHING

Perhaps you wonder how we got Mr. R. F. Outcault, the creator of Buster Brown and the world's highest paid artist, to make for us a fresh signed drawing each week. But we did—it cost us no small price. We are glad they will be here. Buster believes in truth. We do. We make a profit, every merchant must. We do not "cut prices" except on broken sizes or when overloaded. We make prices right in the beginning. We wish to make money; who doesn't? But we can make more selling at a fair profit and doing a bigger business. Help your self by making our volume larger. We invite you to look each week at Mr. Outcault's cartoons.

Respectfully, BURT NORWOOD.

ACT AMENDED.

This Was Done to Perfect the New State of Oklahoma.

Washington, March 4.—The house passed a senate bill amending the act enabling the people of Oklahoma and Indian Territory to form a constitution by providing for the transfer of cases in the courts of Oklahoma and Indian Territory to the United States district and circuit courts of the state of Oklahoma. It is made necessary, explained Mr. Hamilton of Michigan, chairman of the committee on territories, by a provision in the statehood act which provides that all cases in which the United States in a party should be transferred to the United States district and circuit courts. All criminal cases pending in the courts in Indian Territory are brought in the name of the United States, and the effect of the provision would be to transfer all criminal cases to the United States district and circuit courts of the Eastern district of the state of Oklahoma and crowd the dockets of these courts for years to come. The bill also fixes the salaries of United States attorneys and marshals in the two districts of Oklahoma. The statehood bill omitted to fix the salaries of these officers.

CONVULSED BY CARMACK

Tennessee Senator Occupies on the Sabbath

MUCH TIME UPON FLOOR.

With the Assistance of a Dictionary He Manages to Prevent the Majority From Passing the Measure For a Ship Subsidy.

Washington, March 4.—Beginning at 11 o'clock Sunday by far the larger part of the session of the senate was devoted to a filibuster by the Democratic senators against a ship subsidy bill as it passed the house, and when the senate adjourned a few minutes before midnight the bill was still pending. Speeches intended for no other purpose than to kill time were made by Senators Carmack, Dubois, Newlands and others, who frankly confessed their intention of defeating consideration of the, to them, objectionable measure.

When recess was taken the friends of the bill had given up all hope of securing any shipping legislation.

Never before has the senate appeared to relish so much an attempt to kill legislation by filibustering methods.
Mr. Carmack, as director of the minority movement against the bill, kept the members convulsed with his sallies, and at no time did he try to hide the fact that his effort was a filibuster, pure and simple. He scorned subterfuge, and at the outset of his remarks

SENATOR EDWARD W. CARMACK OF TEN-NESSEE.

came into the open by addressing himself principally to the term "filibusterers," which Mr. Gallinger applied to the Democratic senators who had undertaken to defeat the measure.

First, Mr. Carmack devoted himself to the endorsement of Webster's dictionary as an authority on orthography and definition, and said that if the senate had any doubt that this work was an authority he would bring it in and ask that passages from it be read at the desk.

After reading Webster's definition of "filibusterer" with its varying used synonyms, Mr. Carmack said that the remark of Mr. Gallinger has branded him as a "marauder, a pillager, a buc-caneer, a sea robber, a free-booter and a pirate upon the seas. In fact," he said, "I have been accused of almost everything except the appendicitis. So branded, I am to be retired from this body and sent to my home, for I cannot defend myself by attacking the character or the credibility of the senator from New Hampshire. I cannot credit him truthfully, and therefore I cannot discredit him at all."

When he had spoken for about forty-five minutes, with the obvious purpose of killing time, Mr. Carmack paused, looked at his watch and remarked:
"Well, I see I must be hurrying along."
At this the senators on the floor shouted their amusement.

To give Mr. Carmack a rest, Mr. Dubois asked to be permitted to read from a very interesting document on the subject of ship subsidy, and Mr. Spooner protested that as Mr. Carmack was in so great a hurry to conclude, it would not be fair to interrupt him.
The Tennessee senator, however, said he was sure that any contribution from Mr. Dubois would be valuable, and he should be glad to permit it read and incorporated in the body of his remarks. Mr. Dubois then read at length, and when he had concluded a very technical paragraph, to which few senators paid any attention, Mr. Carmack asked that the last paragraph be repeated, as he regarded it of great importance. Laughter followed, and as Mr. Dubois sat down Mr. Gallinger interrupted to reply, he said, to what he thought had been an unwarranted attack upon him.

At this juncture a colloquy occurred between Mr. Gallinger and Mr. Carmack over the definition of the word "filibusterer," as given by different dictionaries, and the latter charged that Mr. Gallinger had simply been trying to "filibuster," according to his own definition of the word.

Charging that the pending measure was for the purpose of "looting the treasury," Mr. Carmack referred to the bill as voting a "subvention," and Mr. McLaurin asked the difference between "subsidy" and "subvention." Mr.
Carmack answered: "Subsidy by any In answer to a question by Senator Carter as to what, if any, dictionary is used in Tennessee. Mr. Carmack replied: "Tennessee stands by the common definition of Webster's dictionary."

Messrs. Carmack and Frye had a warm colloquy, after which both gentlemen expressed great regret over the incident.

Approved by Senate.

Washington, March 4.—The senate

ing immigrant stations at Galveston, New Orleans and Charleston.

SONGS SUNG.

Speaker Cannon Thanked in Resolution Offered by Williams.

Washington, March 4.—"My Country, 'Tis of Thee," rang out in the chamber of the house as the clock was turned back fifteen minutes in order that the bill limiting the hours of labor for railroad employees might be enrolled. A recess was ordered and then songs began. Hundreds of waving flags in hands of members made a striking picture. Galleries joined in the chorus and made the historic chamber ring. Speaker Cannon called Mr. Clark of Missouri to the chair and as he ascended the rostrum an ovation was given him. Mr. Williams of Mississippi, minority leader, arose, and, addressing the house, said that another congress was about to die and that work performed by the Fifty-ninth congress would stand as the best work the nation has had in many years. And then he spoke of the speaker. "The speaker, whom everyone loves for his big brain, his big heart and his impartiality." He congratulated the house on having such a man as its presiding officer. Mr.
Williams then presented a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, thanking Speaker Cannon for the able manner in which he had presided.
Mr. Williams brought in the speaker, who expressed his thanks, and declared the house adjourned sine die.

"EMOTIONAL INSANITY."

Attempt of Prosecution to Shatter This Defense of the Strothers.

Culpeper, Va., March 4.—The second week of the Strother trial opened with interest centered in the attempt of the prosecution to shatter the plasof "emotional insanity" advanced by the defense. By calling Dr. De Jarette, superintendent of the Western State hospital at Staunton, to the stand the prosecution aimed to show that on the night of Dec. 15, when W. F. Bywaters was shot to death, James A. and Philip Strother, charged with the killing, were in a state of irresponsibility.

The next witness in point of importance was Edward L. Gaines, brother-in-law of the Strothers, who was called by the commonwealth. Mr. Gaines was at Rotherwood on the night of the tragedy, although he was not, according to defendants, present when the shooting of Bywaters occurred. By Mr. Gaines' testimony the prosecution hoped to establish the fact that the Strothers were not only perfectly cool and sane on the night of the tragedy, but that Gaines was an actual witness to the shooting of Bywaters.

Dr. Charles G. Wagner, another alienist, was then called. During his cross-examination Dr. Wagner expressed the opinion "that this man (Thaw) has symptoms allied to a depressive form of insanity and others allied to dementia praecox."

Blue Laws Revived.

New Orleans, March 4.—Specials from Harrison county, Mississippi, say Sunday blue laws are being revived there. At Gulfport even drug stores, soda fountains and fruit stands were closed by orders of Police Justice Evans. Some visitors complained that not only they get nothing to drink, but it was difficult to purchase eatables.

EIGHTY-FIVE BURIED.

Landslide Descends From Mountain Upon That Number of Persons.

Bona, Algeria, March 4.—Eighty-five persons were buried by a landslide of about fifteen square miles on a mountain side near Sedrata.

OLDEST DIVINE GONE.

Passes Away at Ripe Old Age of One Hundred and Eight.

Little Rock, March 4.—Near Huron, Izard county, Rev. George Brensfeld, a Methodist clergyman, passed away, aged 108 years. He was a native of North Carolina and a resident of this state eighty-four years. When 100 years old he walked to Batesville, fifty miles, to attend a conference. In 1818 he married Miss Charity Skipper, and of the union six children were born.
After her death he married again and eight children were born to his second wife. He had fifty grandchildren, eighty-seven great-grandchildren and twelve great-great-grandchildren.

COURT TERM EXTENDED.

Thaw Brought Along Several Large Envelopes Filled With Letters.

New York, March 4.—The formal-ties of postponing the March term of the criminal branch of the supreme court had to be gone through before the trial of Harry K. Thaw was resumed. Thaw's case began in the January term and that term will be continued until the case is disposed of.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, the New Jersey alienist, who was under cross-examination Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last, was again placed upon the witness stand as soon as Thaw was called to the bar.

Thaw again brought into the court several large brown portfolio envelopes filled with letters. He receives several scores of missives daily, some letters coming from across the seas, and Monday morning's mail is always heavy.

Mr. Jerome asked Dr. Evans: "Were Thaw's mental processes such he knew he was attacking Stanford White on the roof garden?"

"He had an insane knowledge—yes," replied Dr. Evans.

Mr. Jerome concluded the cross-examination of Dr. Evans at 12 o'clock.
Witness was excused temporarily from redirect examination.

Prison Inspector Killed.

Ufa, Russia, March 4.—Prison Inspector Kolbe was shot and killed by three Revolutionists. One of the assassin was captured. He said the inspector had been sentenced to death by the Social Revolutionists on account of cruelty to prisoners.
